7. I am a registered voter of the City of South Pasadena.
8. Give brief history of your educational and professional background: _____

My wife Laurie and I have been full-time residents of Bay Island since 2017, choosing South Pasadena as our long-term home. I served four years in the United States Air Force, hold a Master's in Accounting Information Systems from the University of West Florida, and am a former Certified Public Accountant. Professionally, I worked as a management consultant with PwC, Deloitte Consulting, and Capgemini, leading large-scale governance and systems initiatives, and later held executive leadership roles in five startup technology companies overseeing Professional Services, Customer Service, and Research & Development.

9. What do you think you can contribute to the Charter Review Committee? _____

My career has focused on governance structure, financial oversight, organizational design, and accountability frameworks in complex organizations. I am also completing coursework at Eckerd College in Marine Science and Coastal Management to better understand the unique challenges facing coastal communities. I believe I can contribute structured governance analysis, fiscal discipline, and a long-term perspective to help ensure the City Charter reflects sound management principles, transparency, and resilience for South Pasadena's future.

10. I acknowledge that the information provided is public record and subject to disclosure in accordance with Florida Statutes.
